

THE MUSICIANS

Helen Webby (Harp) Principal Harp with Christchurch Symphony Orchestra, loves to come out of the back of the orchestra and play her amazing Concert harp. Helen studied harp in Auckland, The Netherlands and Germany. Helen's recordings are frequently heard on RNZ Concert, and her solo CD Pluck (MANU) was nominated for Best Classical CD in the 2013 NZ Music Awards. Helen is a favourite with Arts on Tour audiences around New Zealand, and featured in the recent documentary Central to the Soul by Dunedin film-maker Bill Morris.

Cathy Irons (Violin) performs regularly in the Christchurch Symphony Orchestra (CSO), including roles such as acting assistant concertmaster. Another string to her bow is her cross-over playing with the Classical Jazz Quartet and Duo Douce Ambiance with jazz pianist, Dan Robertson. She has performed and/or recorded with Cliff Richard, Brooke Fraser, Craig Smith and Amiria Grenell and her recent collaborative CD with Aled Jones and Russell Watson reached No 1 in the UK Classical Charts.

Paul Mitchell (Cello) Paul studied cello at The University of Auckland and later won an Associated Board of Royal Schools of Music Scholarship. For the next ten years Paul lived and worked in Spain where he held principal positions with the Balearic Symphony Orchestra, and the Orchestra of Cordoba, appearing as soloist in the Elgar Cello Concerto. Since returning to New Zealand he has worked with Orchestra Wellington, Christchurch Symphony, Auckland Philharmonia, and the NZSO. Paul plays as principal cello in Bach Musica NZ and the Auckland Chamber Orchestra.
